

BRITISH STRIKE HARD BLOW SOUTH OF SCARPE GERMANS ARE RETREATING OVER 44 MILE FRONT

COUNTY DEFENSE COUNCIL HEARS DR. GEORGE LANG

MEETING WAR WORKERS.

Dr. George Lang, executive secretary of the Council of Defense of Alabama, met with the Morgan County Council of Defense at the Albany city hall Saturday night. An adjourned meeting of the Morgan county council will be held at the court house tonight.

In his address at the city hall Dr. Lang outlined the government's demand on the council and made many practical suggestions. Two news statements of the speaker attracted great interest. The first was that the Vaterland, now the "Leviathan," is carrying 20,000 soldiers at a trip. Only 10,000 was its reported capacity. The second was that a recent German flyer, shot down on the western front, was a woman.

It was in connection with the participation of German women in the war, that Mr. Lang said: "But the war is going to last. I do not look for its close for two or three years longer. The sacrifices we shall have to make are only in the beginning. The Germans are not quitters. The history of their wars proves this. When the Kaiser said it was to be a fight to a finish, I believe he meant just what he said. I also believe he will have the solid support of the entire central peoples. As a nation we are called on to face the most serious and critical time in our history and in all history."

Coming as the speaker's words did at the close of a lengthy address in which he showed large war knowledge, they caused a solemn pause and serious consideration.

Give Praise Where Praise is Due.
Speaking in the business session of the committee, Mr. Lang remarked on the staunch loyalty of the Morgan County Council of Defense. He commended Chairman Payne as the right man in the right place, who was giving his time and his money without stint to the work.

In connection with Mr. Payne's administration, Dr. Lang said: "In war activities, Alabama in a short time has advanced to front rank among the states. Morgan county is a top notch in the counties of Alabama. County Chairman C. C. Payne is the right man in the right place, giving both his time and money to war activities. While there has been no comparative tabulation of results in Alabama, it will be only a short time until this is done. State headquarters have found Mr. Payne to respond, and at once, to all requests and to act at once when called upon. He is rendering splendid service and is receiving the support of the people, evidenced by the results he is getting. He has the zeal and enthusiasm that will bring about the best war council results."

When Dr. Lang stated that the election of additional officers was necessary, on the recommendation of W. B. Edmundson, county food administrator, a temporary organization was effected with Dr. Lang acting as chairman and J. E. Blair as secretary.

Wyker Vice Chairman.
On motion of Mr. Edmundson, with a number of seconds, John D. Wyker was made vice-chairman of the Morgan County Council of Defense; John Patterson, county coal administrator, was made secretary-treasurer by unanimous vote. On suggestion of W. T. Lowe, who is "four minute speakers" chairman for the county, the secretary was asked to furnish a list of the members of the county council of defense, as now constituted.

According to records in Chairman Payne's office, it is as follows:

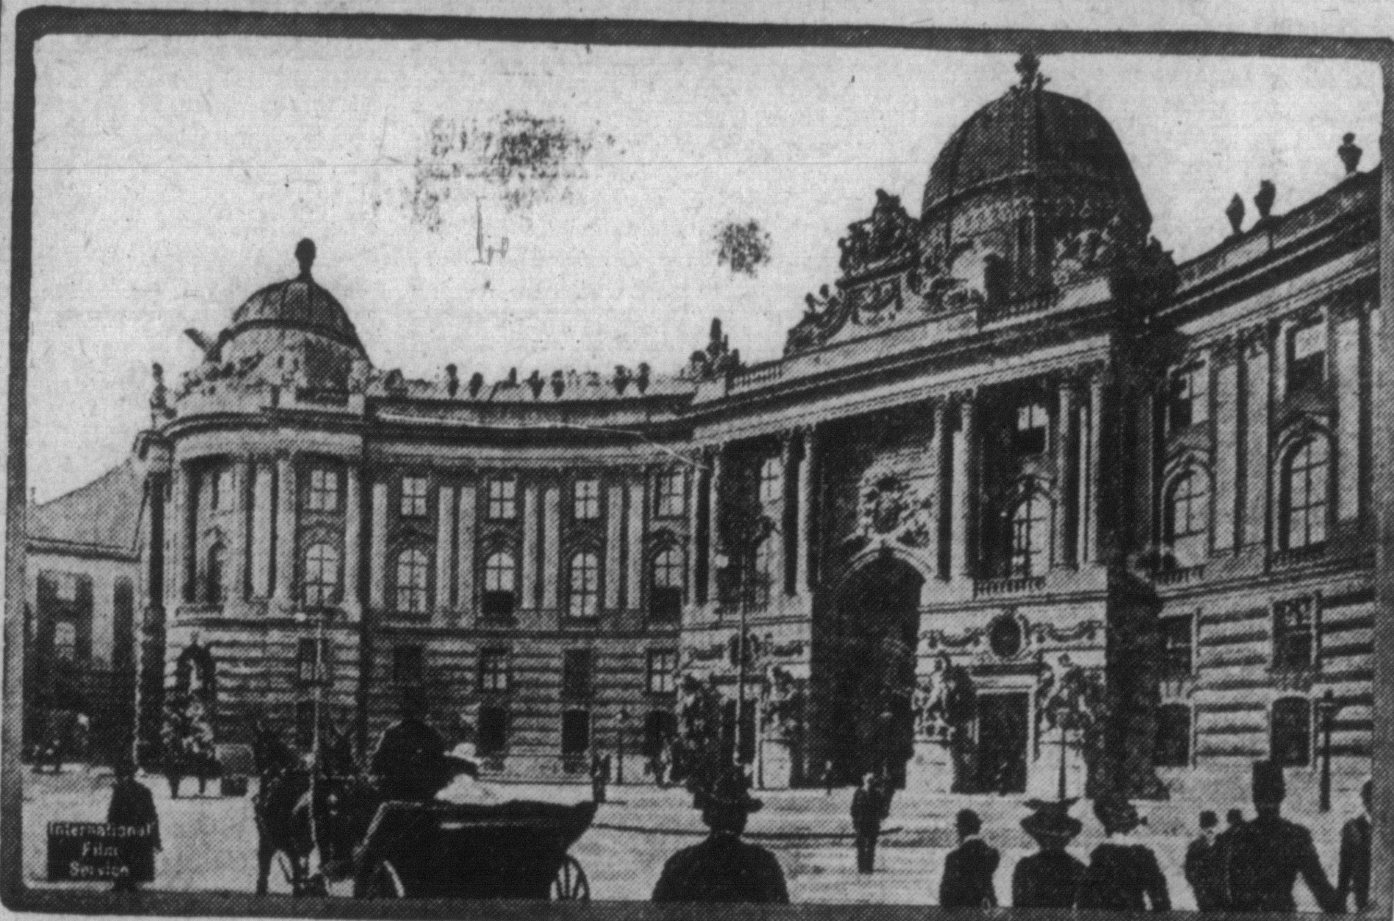

E. C. Payne, chairman.
John D. Wyker, vice-chairman.
W. T. Lowe, chairman four minute men.

W. B. Edmundson, chairman county food administration.

Mrs. J. D. Wyker, chairman women.

OFFICIAL FRENCH INVESTIGATION SHOWS GERMAN MORALE IS LOW

(International News Service.)

"AUTOLESS SUNDAY" RIGIDLY KEPT; STREET CARS DO RUSHING BUSINESS

National Fuel Administrator Garfield's request that automobile owners refrain from pleasure riding on Sunday was so well observed in the Twin Cities yesterday that the street cars, for once, did a rushing business. It was like a return of "ye olden time" before the gas wagon came into general use. The majority of the owners locked their garages and silently sat at home, wondering why they had ever spent their good money for automobiles, anyway. A few persons motored to church, a taxicab or two whizzed along at intervals; every now and then a physician went forth on an errand of mercy, the medicos not being included in the restrictive regulations. But with these few exceptions, everybody walked or stayed at home. Gilded youth who had forgotten the art of pedestrianism, hied forth upon creaking pins. Aged men and women, long accustomed to the smell of gasoline, hobbled to church. Visitors arriving on trains were allowed to try out the street cars, or to walk if they preferred. It was an "autoless" Sabbath, and oh, so quiet! No honking Claxons, no whirring motors. But patriotism was triumphant and gasoline for winning the war was saved.

Alice Bridgeforth Case Was Appealed

NO SUSPENDED SENTENCE,
SAYS JUDGE KYLE, REPLYING TO GRAND JURY.

Alice Bridgeforth, negress, will not be placed at work on the county road just yet, despite the fact that the recent grand jury recommended such treatment. The reason, as explained by Judge O. Kyle today, is that she is not under suspended sentence, as the grand jury thought. Following the woman's conviction for the alleged violation of the prohibition laws, her case was appealed and is now before the Alabama court of appeals, Judge Kyle stated, which leaves him without authority to act until the court of appeals has rendered its decision.

BATTLE RAGES FIERCELY ALONG ONE HUNDRED MILE LINE WITH ALLIES WINNING

AMERICANS ARE TAKING ACTIVE PART

Laon and La Fere Are Menaced. Enemy is Allowed No Rest by Foch

(International News Service.)

London, Sept. 2.—(12:22 p. m.)—The Germans are retreating over a 44-mile front between Zoomezeele and Mont St. Quentin, according to information from the front today. The only portion of this sector where the Germans were not reported falling back was over the ten-mile front from Lens to Givenchy.

Gen. Von Hutier is being hemmed in between the Somme and the Oise rivers and will soon be forced to retreat, said a dispatch from Paris.

(International News Service.)

Paris, Sept. 2.—The Germans have used 400 divisions (4,800,000 men) on the western front this year and their total loss since the spring campaign opened is estimated at 1,200,000 men.

Nearly 100 miles of the western front from Ypres to the Aisne river heights was aflame with battle today, with the allies making progress in five different zones of fighting. At dawn Field Marshal Haig launched a new blow against the northern end of the famous Hindenburg line, the chief supporting position east of Arras. More villages were captured by the British, while the French, fighting between the Oise and the Aisne rivers, drew closer to the German stronghold of Coucy-Le-Chateau. Striking eastward and westward from Peronne the allies are now clearing the Somme valley from German rear guards, although meeting with stiff resistance.

While the allies are crushing in the northern end of the Hindenburg line, the French on the southern end of the battle zone are closing in on the German army of Gen. Von Hutier and are seriously menacing the only line of retreat left open to the Huns holding the Oise salient. The blows of the allies in the north and in the south have now taken on the form of a gigantic flanking movement.

Americans are taking an important part in the struggle raging in Flanders and on the high ground north of the Aisne. Americans aligned with the French on the southern wing are smashing ahead in front of Laon and La Fere, although they are meeting with powerful resistance. In the past 36 hours the allies have advanced from two to more than four miles. Great interest centers around the situation at Lens, which place is expected to fall soon. Lens is the key to the French coal fields.

(International News Service.)

Paris, Sept. 2.—Following the capture of the great German stronghold of Peronne, the allies are sweeping forward to clear all of the eastern banks of the Somme river of German rear guards. The fall of Peronne will enable the allies to quickly cut all the German supply lines as far south as Mattigny, which is nine miles southeast of Peronne. The advance of the allies north of Ham is imperiling the last line of retreat open to Gen. Von Hutier's army from the Oise river salient.

(International News Service.)

London, Sept. 2.—A new attack was launched south of the Scarpe river at 6 o'clock this morning and at noon Field Marshal Haig reported it was making progress. Reincourt-les-Cagnicourt, eight miles northeast of Bapaume, has been captured by the British. Striking south of that place, the British have captured German positions and many prisoners. On the Flanders front south of Ypres, the British have captured Neuve Eglise from the Germans. The British today are striking forward over a front from the zone north of Peronne to the district south of Ypres and are making progress everywhere.

(International News Service.)

London, Sept. 2.—There has been heavy fire on the American front along the Vosges and numerous hand to hand skirmishes in which the Americans forced back the enemy with heavy losses, according to stories reaching here. An American patrol was gassed by the enemy. Although suffering from the effects of the poison, the patrol leader cut through four belts of barbed wire, blew up an observation post, reassembled his men and returned to the American lines without the loss of a single man.

(International News Service.)

London, Sept. 2.—British forces again swept forward north of Peronne last night, capturing Salliy-Saillisel and Saillisel, the British war office announced today.

Salliy-Saillisel and Saillisel are twin villages about six miles north of Peronne. They command important flanking territory. It is learned on excellent authority that the French are rushing up tanks everywhere to take advantage of the open country through which the advance is being pushed.

(International News Service.)

London, Sept. 2.—Canadian troops have broken through the Crocourt-Queant switch, the chain of positions defending the northern end of the Hindenburg line, it was learned this afternoon. (Continued on Page Six)

PRESIDENT WILSON'S ADDRESS TO LABOR.

The strongest editorial that will be penned on the observance of Labor Day was written by President Wilson, in an address which was made public at Washington. In this address, the nation's great executive points to the new and supreme significance of Labor Day, 1918, and says:

"My Fellow-citizens: Labor Day, 1918, is not like any Labor Day that we have known. Labor Day was always deeply significant with us. Now it is supremely significant. Keenly as we were aware a year ago of the enterprise of life and death upon which the nation had embarked, we did not perceive its meaning as clearly as we do now. We knew that we were all partners and must stand and strive together, but we did not realize as we do now that we are all enlisted men, members of a single army, of many parts and many tasks but commanded by a single obligation, our faces set towards a single object. We now know that every tool in every essential industry is a weapon, and a weapon wielded for the same purpose that an army rifle is wielded—a weapon which if we were to lay down our rifle would be of any use.

"And a weapon for what? What is the war for? Why are we enlisted? Why should we be ashamed if we were not enlisted? At first it seemed hardly more than a war of defense against the military aggression of Germany. Belgium had been violated, France invaded, and Germany was afield again as in 1870, and 1866, to work out her ambitions in Europe; and it was necessary to meet her force with force. But it is clear now that it is much more than a war to alter the balance of power in Europe. Germany, it is now plain, was striking at what free men everywhere desire and must have—the right to determine their own fortunes, to insist upon justice, and to oblige governments to act for them and not for the private and selfish interest of a governing class. It is a war to make the nations and peoples of the world secure against every such power as the German autocracy represents. It is a war of emancipation. Not until it is won can men anywhere live free from constant fear or breathe freely while they go about their daily tasks and know the governments are their servants, not their masters.

"This is, therefore, the war of all wars, which labor should support with all its concentrated power. The world cannot be safe, men's lives cannot be secure, no man's rights can be confidently and successfully asserted against the rule and mastery of arbitrary groups and special interests, so long as governments like that which, after long premeditation, drew Austria and Germany into this war are permitted to control the destinies and the daily fortunes of men and nations, plotting while honest men work, laying the fires of which innocent men, women and children are to be the fuel.

"You know the nature of this war. It is a war which industry must sustain. The army of laborers at home is as important, as essential, as the army of fighting men in the far fields of actual battle. And the laborer is not only needed as much as the soldier—it is his war. The soldier is his champion and representative. To fail to win would be to imperil everything that the laborer has striven for and held dear since freedom first had its dawn and his struggle for justice began. The soldiers at the front know this. It steals their muscles to think it. They are crusaders. They are fighting for no selfish advantage for their own nation. They would despise any one for any nation. They are giving their lives that homes everywhere, as well as the homes they love in America, may be kept sacred and safe, and men everywhere be free as they insist upon being free. They are fighting for the ideals of their own land—great ideals, immortal ideals, ideals which shall light the way for all men to the places where justice is done and men live with lifted heads and emancipated spirits. That is the reason they fight with solemn joy and are invincible.

"Let us make this, therefore, a day of fresh comprehension not only of what we are about, and of renewed and clear-eyed resolution, but a day of consecration also, in which we devote ourselves without pause or limit to the great task of setting our own country and the whole world free to render justice to all and of making it impossible for small groups of political rulers anywhere to disturb our peace or the peace of the world or in any way to make tools and puppets of those upon whose consent and upon whose power their own authority and their own very existence depend.

"We may count upon each other. The nation is of a single mind. It is taking counsel with no special class. It is serving no private or single interest. Its own mind has been cleared and fortified by these days which burn the dross away. The light of a new conviction has penetrated to every class amongst us. We realize as we never realized before that we are comrades, dependent upon one another, irresistible when united, powerless when divided. And so we join hands to lead the world to a new and better way."

YOUNG BLACK JOE.

(Louisville Courier-Journal.)
"Young Black Joe," which the Courier-Journal publishes through the courtesy of the Saturday Evening Post, is an engaging account by Irvin S. Cobb of his reconnaissance of two regiments of American colored troops on the battlefield in France.

There is no man writing for the press today better qualified than Cobb to make such a report. He knows the negroes as only a southerner "raised" with them from boyhood and babyhood can know them. He knows both the southern negro and the northern negro, and it is a good guess that he never attended to any part of his job as war correspondent in Europe with more avidity than he entered on his journey of 180 miles to the particular sector of the French front where it had been "norated around" that American negroes were stationed.

His story is that of how he found them as rumored—the blacks of South Carolina and Georgia and the lighter skins of the "San Juan Hill" quarter of New York city—how they were bearing themselves in their billets and with what spirit they were impatiently waiting to go over the top, win war crosses, as their companions, Johnson and Roberts, had done, and get a "mess of Germans."

Everyone who knows the American negro knows what metal of soldier he makes—knows that there is no better fighter of any race or color. He has proved that beyond all question. So those who do know will not read with surprise the "moral" which Cobb offers as the result of his observations of these two regiments. "I am of the opinion personally," he says—"and I make the assertion with all the better grace, I think, seeing that I am a southerner with all of the southerner's inherited and acquired prejudices touching on the race question—that as a result of what our black soldiers are going to do in this war, a word that has been uttered billions of times in our country, sometimes in derision, sometimes in hate, sometimes in all kindness—but which I am sure never fell on black ears but it left behind a sting for the heart—is going to have a new meaning for all of us, south and north, too, and that hereafter n-l-g-e-r will merely be another way of spelling the word American."

We in the south whose hearts warm at the memory of the "Old Black Joe" of the plaintive song of "the quarters" can well share Cobb's confidence in the manner in which Young Black Joe is going to acquit himself in the great drama across the Atlantic on which the eyes of the world are now fixed.

ICE TRUCKS ARE STORMED.
CITIZENS HELPING SELVES
(International News Service)
Kusa, Okla., Sept. 2.—Citizens of this place, angered because a Henry-ette ice company refused to sell ice here but continued to send supplies to other towns by way of Kusa, stopped two trucks and after the driver had refused to deliver more than two cakes, removed the wheels from one truck. They appropriated the ice for their own use and then asked the State Corporation Commission to force the company to deliver ice to the town.

Radical Air Force Reconstruction by England is Big Factor in Allied Air Supremacy Over Huns

These figures, showing the activity of the British aviators during the month of May, give some indication of the allied air superiority:

Four hundred and eighteen aeroplanes were totally destroyed and 105 more were driven down out of control, making German losses caused by the British alone 523 for the month. Against this, British losses were 128.

Forty-three thousand three hundred and sixty-seven photographs were taken behind enemy lines.

Eight hundred and fourteen thousand seven hundred and thirty-eight rounds of small-arms ammunition were fired upon German troops.

Six hundred and eighty-six and one-half tons of bombs were dropped, 440 tons being let loose upon Germany by day.

A score of industrial centers in the Rhine Valley bombed, some of them fourteen or fifteen different times during the month.

(By Floyd MacGriff, International News Service Staff Correspondent)

London (by mail).—From London to Jericho the Allies have obtained a decided superiority over the enemy in the air. Since the war started Germany has trailed France and England in aerial warfare, Zeppelins excepted. France and England didn't waste their time with Zeppelins, which have been a dismal failure when compared with bombing machines such as the Allies build and manipulate, much to the terror of the Rhine towns.

Besides forcing down and destroying three German aeroplanes to one lost by the Allies, England, France and now America are building better machines, faster machines and machines which will carry more tons of bombs each than the German.

Germany has lost not less than 5,000 machines and aviators in the past twelve months.

This figure, 5,000, represents Germany's losses in all theatres of war to Allied airmen. While the exact official number of German planes destroyed, together with the Allied losses, may not be disclosed, it may be stated that this unofficial summary is very conservative.

At the outbreak of the war Great Britain had eighty aircraft. Every few days Great Britain is producing more aeroplanes and other material for the air force than she possessed altogether at one stage of the war. The strength of the Royal Air Force has been multiplied at least 200 times in personnel as compared to the personnel at one stage of the war. Great Britain also has furnished considerable aeroplanes for her allies.

England's air force has undergone radical reconstruction and its tactics have been changed, much to the discomfort of Germany. Briefly, these changes are: Consolidation of the Royal Flying Corps and the Royal Naval Air Service into one organization, known as the Royal Air Force; establishment of an air ministry, creation of the Independent Air Force, and use of "cavalry" aviators—airmen who have charged advancing Germans, bombed and machine-gunned them from a height of a hundred feet.

The air ministry, established in the past year, gave impetus to aircraft production and unified all work connected with the air service. Under Lord Rothermere, brother of Lord Northcliffe, the naval and land air services were united. This was the chief work of the first air minister, who recently was succeeded by Sir William Weir, manufacturer, able to devote more time to putting out aeroplanes.

The Independent Air Force, which is said to have only one authority higher than its own commander, this being the war cabinet, has been busy bombing German cities since its creation three months ago. Four-fifths of the German munition works are in the Rhine Valley, and all of them within striking distance of these Independent Air Force bombers. Their plan is to keep a number of Rhine towns in a constant state of terror by bombing works of military importance in those communities. One town may be raided night after night for a week or more, or it may be visited day and night, or twice daily, which ever plan seems to cause the most consternation and demoralization. In addition, railway junctions, ammunition dumps and barracks are bombed by this organization of flyers, which works separately and distinctly from aviators attached to certain army corps who also may be dispatched to do similar bombing.

The great advantage of aviators for bombing and machine-gunning advancing columns was shown in the March and succeeding offensives, when time and again scores of aviators concentrated upon a certain point, disorganized a German advance, or held a portion of the line that had given way until reinforcements could be rushed up by the Franco-British. On one day these aviators fired more than 200,000 rounds into German columns. More than 120 tons of bombs have been dropped in one day.

America is playing a part in the air offensive. Every new contingent of American aviators which reaches France or England helps out in the general scheme of things which keeps the Allies masters of the air.

The Liberty aeroplane motor will play its part. It may be stated that if for any reason the Liberty motor should fail, then the Allied air program designed to give even greater superiority over the enemy likewise will suffer.

The British also have shown they are superior to Germany in aerial defenses. There have been twenty-one raids on London in the past year, three of these by Zeppelins. But since the visit of eleven Zeppelins October 19, last, when five of them were brought down, four in France and one in the Mediterranean, they have not attempted to visit London, where the Zeppelins do not dare to come lower than 20,000 feet, which is too high for them to bomb effectively.

Gotha raids also are becoming quite expensive for Germany, the last raid, May 20, resulting in seven machines being destroyed. Twenty-five aviators trained for night flying are far more valuable to Germany than two-score of civilians killed in London. The city's defensive barrage and protecting aeroplanes are too much for the invaders.

HUNTING THE KAISER.

Bring the good old Springfields, boys, we'll have to look them o'er,
Be sure and get them sighted right,
And polish up the bore,
We are going after "Kulture" upon the German shore,
And we'll go hunting the Kaiser.

He thinks our Uncle Sammie is a very easy mark,
And to whip our army would be going on a lark,
But after we are through with him, he'll not be in the dark,
And we'll go hunting the Kaiser.

He has robbed a million children of a father's tender care,
And answered with his bullets the loving mother's prayer,
He has shown himself unworthy to be living anywhere,
So we'll go hunting the Kaiser.

We have naught against his soldiers who are bowing to his will,
Nor aught against the people whose tongues are tied and still,
But we will not be polluted with the kultured Kaiser Bill,
So we'll go hunting the Kaiser.

We know our posted hunting grounds are full of Kaiser spies,
But our Uncle Samuel is next, and very, very wise,
And when he gets a bead on one, we know which way he flies,
As we are hunting the Kaiser.

When we get him in our game-bag, we'll watch him very close,
And if he shows signs of life again, we'll just repeat the dose,
So bolster up your courage, boys, Democracy will be close,
When we have potted the Kaiser.

Chorus.

Hurrah! Hurrah! We're after Kaiser Bill!
Hurrah! Hurrah! We'll get him, yes, we will!

So pack your ammunition box and meet me on the hill,
And we'll go hunting the Kaiser.
(Sung to tune of "Marching Through Georgia.")

For Better Walls,

"This Is War! Send Us Men in Khaki and Trained Nurses—Not Those Souvenir Hunters and Eccentric Women"

(By Robert S. Doman, International News Service Staff Correspondent.)
Paris, Aug. 18 (by mail).—"It should be stopped at once." The American officer who obviously cannot be named brought his first down on the table. "Do they think in the United States that this war is some sort of a world's fair or religious revival?"

"In the Civil War, Sherman on his march through Georgia and Lee at Richmond didn't have a ragtag and bobtail army piffing at their heels trying to save the souls of their soldiers or engaged in war sightseeing."

"Why, then, in the name of (censored), are all these rubber-neck wagon commissions from every state legislature in the country coming over? Why is every religious organization and fraternal society, from the Shaking Quakers to Red Eagles, sending over joy-ride parties?"

"Damn it, man, we're at war. Here I read a cable from America today that the Dancing Masters' Association at its Chicago convention announced plans for sending over a dancing masters' unit to instruct the American soldiers in the 'trench trot,' the 'camouflage waltz' and the 'cantonment canter.'

"If that unit ever gets to France it will be murdered in cold blood. Don't think I am jesting. I am speaking God's own truth. That sort of thing is heart-sickening. It has the worst sort of effect on the morale of our boys."

"Another organization, not the Red Cross, has had a lecturer on political economy over here. The press department of the organization makes proud mention of the fact. What in blazes do our lads in the trenches care about political economy?"

"I have heard our boys talking about these things. Their disgust knows no bounds. The privilege of being at the front should be confined to fighters and to fighters only."

"These Cook's tourists, these joy-riding sightseers, these morbid sensation seekers should be canned, bottled and preserved and put in the cellars in America. We don't want them over here. The Doughboys jeer at these commissions in black clothes and the embusques in khaki who nibble around at their heels or endeavor to patronize them when they come on leave to Paris."

"The generous American public is wasting hundreds of thousands of valuable dollars financing the trips of the members of these fraternal orders and religious organizations and other long-haired souvenir hunters."

"This is not the time to satisfy curiosity. We want no males over here, whether they be fifteen or seventy years old, unless they are in khaki. And we don't want khaki slackers, either."

"Yes, and while I'm on the subject, I would like to repeat what hard-working Red Cross nurses think of these wild women who are coming over on every boat. How they get here no one knows."

"Send us over freckle-faced, trained nurses who won't vomit at the sight of blood, but for the love of Mike deliver us from these eccentric females who strut around Paris with spiked trench canes, trench boots, khaki skirts, Sam Browne belts and other paraphernalia."

"The doughboys cheer the girls with the red-lined capes, but what they say about these wild women who try to mother them wouldn't bear repetition. I have it on the authority of one of the best known consular officers in France that an American woman arrived within the last six months and announced that she had come over to feed the starving aviators. They ought to make all these soul savers pass through Ellis Island before they get aboard ship."

"Recently all Europe laughed at the photograph, reproduced in the press, of an American congressman in a special anti-submarine surefloat life-saving suit. He had proudly posed in a Paris photograph gallery for the picture."

"Keep these publicity seekers away from us. The Doughboy is proud to be at the front. That privilege, for which he is willing to sacrifice his life, shouldn't be cheapened by allowing every Tom, Dick and Katie to come over for a few weeks, then to go back to boast for the rest of their natural lives about the terrible things they saw in the war zone."

"The fighting zone is for fighting men."

HUSBAND'S PRISON LIFE SHATTERS BRIEF ROMANCE

(International News Service)
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2.—The romance of a week was shattered when Mrs. Julia Brothers, daughter of a wealthy Joliet farmer, learned, following her husband's attempt to end his life, that he had a criminal record which included a two-year term at the reformatory. Brothers was arrested by federal agents for representing himself as a government officer. He jumped from the fifth story of the Federal building while being cross-examined.

MANAGERIAL CONTROL FOR STATE PLANNED IN OREGON

(International News Service)
Salem, Ore., Sept. 2.—The next legislature will be asked to submit to the voters a bill embracing a plan for "managerial control" of the state, with all offices except those of governor and secretary of state appointive. It is declared by the backers of the scheme that a business control can be established that will save the state $28,000 a year in running costs.

AMUSEMENTS

"THE KAISER" THE BEAST OF BERLIN AT MASONIC TODAY

Did you know that the Kaiser had a poison-filled abscess in his ear and that if it burst he would be a raving maniac?

Did you know that the Kaiser's left arm is six inches shorter than his right, and that the hand is puny as a child's?

Did you know that the Kaiser has a mania for admiring beautiful hands? And that he wears many bracelets and feminine rings? That he has 360 full dress uniforms, that he was twice a king, twice a grand duke, 18 times a duke, twice a prince, nine times a count, besides being a Bishop?

All these things and many more in the private life of the Jackal of Europe, who has plunged the whole world into war and sorrow, are shown in "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin." To miss it is to miss the most wonderful opportunity to see as he really is the personality of this enemy of mankind.

DEATH.

Ruth, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Crow died yesterday following an illness of two weeks. Funeral this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the residence at 323 East Moulton Street, Rev. Persinger officiating. Four young girls acted as pall bearers, interment taking place at City Cemetery.

HOOVER WOULD PLACE LIMIT ON CONVERSATION

(International News Service)
London, Sept. 2.—It would be difficult, says the L'Intransigeant, to find a man more modest than Herbert Hoover.

A representative of the newspaper called upon him and asked for an interview. America's food dictator, however, told him that there were so many restrictions imposed by the United States that he believed talk should be restricted also.

BUILD 1,000 HOMES MONTHLY.

85 SELECTMEN TO REPORT SEPT. 3NINE FOR SPECIAL AND 76 FOR GENERAL MILITARY SERVICE

The 85 Morgan county selectmen recently called to the colors, will report for duty on September 3, Secretary Draper of the local board announced today. Nine of these men will report for limited service at 8 o'clock on the morning of September 3 and will entrain at 1 o'clock the same afternoon for Camp McClellan, Ala. The remaining 76 men will report at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of Sept. 3 and will entrain at 11:30 o'clock on the morning of September 4 for Camp Pike, Ark.

Owing to the brevity of the notice, Secretary Draper requests that all men report promptly at the time designated.

Limited Service Men.

While but nine limited service men will be sent to Camp McClellan, twelve have been summoned, so that there will be no shortage. Those called are: William O. McKinney, Ellis A. Brown, Roam Humphries, William Warren, Willie S. Lemay, S. Leslie McLarty, Charles A. Frohoff, Patrick H. Sandlin, Wyatt Price, Jonathan S. Sandlin, James E. Brown.

Carl Wilkinson

Called to Colors

FORMER DECATUR BOY GOES TO CAMP WHEELER.

(Columbia Daily Herald)

T. Carl Wilkinson, linotype operator for The Herald, transferred to the Maury local board from the Olean, N. Y., local board, has been called to entrain with a contingent of Maury county selectmen between September 3 and 6 for Camp Wheeler, Macon, Ga., limited service. Mr. Wilkinson is the first member of The Herald staff to be called to the colors direct from this paper. No permanent successor to Mr. Wilkinson will be secured until he has reported at the camp and it has been definitely determined that he will be continued in the service. He was placed in limited service because of defective eyesight. He had formerly been placed in class 1 by the Olean, N. Y., board, but was not called for service because of defective vision. Thinking that he would not be called Mr. Wilkinson then married. Later, upon the reclassification of registrants, he was placed in Group C, Class 1, and has not since been examined.

The management of The Herald greatly regrets to lose the valuable services of Mr. Wilkinson and will make no arrangements to fill his place until he has definitely been accepted for service.

If he is accepted, Mr. Wilkinson will make a good soldier in whatever branch of the service he is placed. He is keenly intelligent and having had previous military experience should promptly win promotion.

Mrs. Wilkinson, who has made many friends in the city since coming here as a bride several months ago, will return to her former home in Birmingham, Ala., where she will remain until Mr. Wilkinson is permanently located.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson were the guests Sunday of Mr. Wilkinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Wilkinson. They returned to Columbia this morning where they will remain pending the arrival of induction papers for Mr. Wilkinson from Olean, N. Y.

The Joy Of
Coming MotherhoodA Wonderful Remedy That is a Natural Aid and Relieves the Tension.

The expectant mother revolves in her mind all we understand by destiny. And it is of the utmost importance that her physical comfort be our first thought.

There is a most splendid remedy for this purpose, known as Mother's Friend. It is applied over the muscles of the stomach, gently rubbed in, and at once penetrates to relieve strain on nerves, cords and ligaments. It makes the muscles so pliant that they expand easily when baby arrives and pain and danger which would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Every nerve, muscle and tendon is thoroughly lubricated.

Mother's Friend is for external use only, is absolutely safe and wonderfully effective. It enables the expectant mother to preserve her health and strength and she remains a pretty mother by having avoided the suffering and danger which would otherwise accompany such an occasion. Every nerve, muscle and tendon is thoroughly lubricated.

Mother's Friend is prepared by the Bradfield Regulator Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. They will mail you an interesting "Motherhood Book." Write them to send it to you, and in the meantime send or phone to your druggist today for a bottle of Mother's Friend.

Every woman should aid nature in her glorious work. Mother's Friend makes it possible for you to do so, and should be used regularly, without fail, night and morning.

BACK OF THE BOY

(By Private Samuel W. Dubs, Camp Gordon Remount.)

Why does he dare to fight so well,
This soldier of the West?

To face the fangs and pangs of hell
Which beat against his breast?

Where did he get that soul of steel
Which serves him nobly now?

What brave descent has set the seal
Of Knighthood on his brow?

Well, back of the boy is Wilson,
Pledge of his high degree;

Back of the boy is Lincoln,
Lincoln and Grant and Lee.

Back of the boy is Jackson,
Jackson and Tippecanoe;

Back of each son is Washington,
And the old Red, White and Blue.

He may have entered at our doors
As Saxon, Celt or Slav,

But, new or old, upon our shores
He's heir to all we have.

We care not what his class or clan,
Or what his name or whose;

A free, upstanding Yankee-man,
He knows not how to lose!

For back of the boy is Wilson,
Wilson and You and Me.

Back of the boy is Lincoln,
Lincoln and Grant and Lee.

Back of each son is Washington;
What better blood could be?

Where is the lad who has ever had
A knightlier pedigree?

ALBANY

ALA.

This is a Branch of the Spencer Business College of Birmingham. The wonderful system of Shorthand, the SPENCERIAN, will be taught.

The marvelous, and matchless and original method illustrating bookkeeping will be taught from Patented Chart.

S. A. ELLIS

Bookkeeping and shorthand can be learned in three months or less. Bookkeeping is mastered in 10 to 20 days. Shorthand in 20 to 40 days.

To put our courses in reach of all in wartimes we have cut the prices down one-third:

Bookkeeping	$35
Shorthand	$35
Combined	$55

We have enrolled 541 new pupils in our main school in Birmingham since January
1st. Over 300 have taken positions. Branch schools operated at Albertville, Cullman, Jasper, Anniston, Carbon Hill and Russellville. A school in Albany should be made permanent.

Read these testimonials: Mr. Jackson, president of the Bank at Albertville, says of our Branch at that place: "Prof. Ellis, your branch school here has been a grand success.
I know your methods are correct and your work thorough, for I have two of your pupils in my bank here." Solicitor Joseph R. Tate says: "If I had a hundred pupils to train I would send every one of them to Spencer College. I note their pupils write rapidly and read their notes like print."

S. A. ELLIS, President.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONIAL
GIVEN FOR QUAKER HERB
EXTRACT BY WELL KNOWN
ALBANY MAN.

Many men and women who have suffered from stomach, liver and kidney troubles are now enjoying perfect health due to QUAKER HERB EXTRACT. Many well known local people are daily calling at the headquarters of the Quaker Man at Thompson's Drug Store in Albany and the Owl Drug Store in Decatur, Ala., and testifying in signed statements what this great medicine QUAKER HERB EXTRACT has done for them. Take for instance the statement made recently by Mr. Mangus Johnson, who resides at 1206 Third Avenue, South Albany and employed at the L. & N. shops, who said:

"For the past three years I have been troubled with my stomach, my food fermented and caused gas to form and I was in constant pain; I had headaches, dizzy spells and was always constipated; my tongue was coated and I always had a bad taste in my mouth; I had palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, and got so weak I could never sleep at night and got awfully discouraged as I thought I would never get well again. I had heard of QUAKER HERB EXTRACT and thought as a last resort I would try it. I can now truthfully say that I am able to sleep fine, have a good appetite for my meals, have no more aches and pains. QUAKER HERB EXTRACT has made me a well man and I am glad to recommend it to others."

The Quaker Man is at the Owl Drug Store, Decatur, Ala., on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and at Thompson's Drug Store, Albany, Ala., on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of QUAKER HERB EXTRACT. Price $1.00 per bottle or three bottles for $2.50. Free samples given.

MAJOR LEAGUES TO END SEASON TODAY

CHICAGO NATIONALS AND BOSTON AMERICANS IN THE
WORLD'S SERIES.

This year finds the interest in baseball running at a very low ebb as all the old stars are either in the "Berlin or Bust" league or have gone to the aid of the shipbuilders. The World Series which has caused many a manager long hours of thinking has this year come to look like a contest in the "bush" leagues. The Chicago "Cubs" have had a cinch in the National circuit for the past two months. The race in the American has only been decided since the Saturday games, with the Boston "Red Sox" coming out on top, with Cleveland a close second and Washington the runner-up. The "higher ups" do it out that while the Cubs have the best of it on the defense in the box, the Sox, with the help of "Babe Ruth" put it over the Cubs on the offense. This balance puts the teams in the fields lets Chicago out entirely. The series will probably start on the Chicago field with Vaughn for the Nationals and Mitchell for the Americans. Today's games will ring down the curtain until the whole Hun army is yelling "Kamerad."

Both circuits play double headers today throughout. The schedule follows:

American—Chicago at Detroit, Philadelphia at Washington, Boston at New York.

National—St. Louis at Cincinnati, Chicago at Pittsburgh, Brooklyn at Philadelphia, New York at Boston.
